And They Say What?

During the course of this academic year the University has once again had an excellent array of speakers address the University of Dubuque community.

The 1990-91 University of Dubuque Convocation series focused on Wellness: Your Key to Health and Happiness. The yearly convocation series is a succession of addresses growing out of the mission statement of the University of Dubuque. This year's topic on wellness included addresses on such specifics as emotional, spiritual, physical, intellectual and vocational/occupational wellness.

The University also hosted two distinguished speakers, Alice Rivlin and Robert M. Solow, during the Jackaline Baldwin Dunlap Distinguished American Lectureship. The endowed lectureship annually brings a noted authority to Dubuque to speak on the American economic and business system.

The 1991 Clarence Griep Lecturer was Dick Ringler. Ringler lectured on War, Peace and the Arts. The presentation traced the development of the antiwar sentiment in Western art, literature and music from early times to the present.

Right: Dr. Lloyd Rediger a well known counselor, writer, and lecturer addressed the importance of spiritual wellness.

Homecoming Celebration celebrates the theme COME TO YOUR CENSUS during 1990.

University of Dubuque held its annual Homecoming celebration Oct. 5-7, 1990, and had a wonderful week. Some of the special events that occurred were the returning of the Alumni, the dedication of the new Flight Operations Center, the Alumni Volleyball game and the tailgate luncheon at Chalmers Field before the big Homecoming football game. Following the game several fraternity and sorority receptions were held as well as the Navy V-12 and V-5 reception in Severance Lounge. It was the first-ever reunion of veterans of World War II, who studied on campus during the 1940s. Later on that night the Homecoming banquet and dance were held at the Julien Dubuque Inn. The banquet honored its 1990 Alumnus of Distinction, Keith Ackman. The Collegiate Singers also performed at the banquet. Later on at 9:00 the big dance began. There was a good turn out of students and faculty. Overall the whole week was a success.

Activities Abound

The Student Activities Board gives the University of Dubuque students entertainment throughout the year. The Board consists of an Executive Board and four student committees. The president of SAB is Cindy Busta, and the advisor is Edgar Martinez. The Student Activities Board consists of many different activity areas. One area is the Social Chair which coordinates many social events such as dances, movies, trips, and ticket sales to community events. Another area is the Live Entertainment Chair which coordinates many shows including comedians, magicians, actors, and musicians. A final area is the Global/Cultural Awareness Chair which coordinates events that promote global/cultural awareness and social concern for the betterment of our environment and world. It also participates in the planning of Tri-College and interdepartmental events such as Earth Day, Alcohol Awareness Week, Safer Sex Awareness Week, Global Affairs Week, and Peace and Justice Week.

The Executive Board will be responsible for planning the event calendar of SAB and for making policy decisions that ensure the smooth and effective operations of the Student Activities Board.

Right-Students were treated to a night of laughs as the comedian act of "Barber and Seville" visited the UD campus.

UD Celebrates Black History Month

The University of Dubuque celebrated Black History Month in February with a variety of events which were sponsored by the Black Presidium, College Student Activities Board, College Student Government Association, Multi-Cultural Services, and the History/Political Science Department. The celebration began on Feb. 9 with a school dance which was held in Peters Commons Cafeteria. The next week two movies were shown that were free and open to the public. The movies were, "In the Matter of Ralph," an original play by Chris Grabow and Lenore Howard of Dubuque, and "The Color Purple." An all-campus soul food dinner which was served in Peters Commons Cafeteria, and a Race Relations Forum with Darnell Haney were the events held the second week in Feb. Then to finish Black History Month Yolanda King, the daughter of Martin Luther King Jr. gave a lecture at Loras College. Also a Prejudice Reduction Workshop was given by two staff members from the University of Illinois. The last event held was the national video tape presentation of "The Rise in Campus Racism- Causes and Solutions." Overall the U of D's Black Awareness events were very successful and will be looked forward to in the years to come.

Student, Fandryati Santoso and staff member, Lois Schuster participate in the workshop.

Bill Stackman, director of programming and the Student Union, and Jacque Brown, counseling Center staff member - lead the Prejudice Reduction Workshop which was coordinated by Edgar Martinez, Director of Student Activities, and Multicultural Services.

UD campus responds with a variety of activities

War breaks out in the Gulf

Beginning with an 11 p.m. candlelight vigil on the Quad attended by 150 tri-college students on Jan. 16, the University of Dubuque Campus Ministry Office began coordinating efforts to respond to the crisis in the Middle East. UD Chaplain Kurt Pasko led the effort to bring together students in response to the Persian Gulf war. Activities coordinated included prayer and meditation every Monday and Friday. A devotional guide with the concerns and names of loved ones was provided. Every Tuesday and Thursday the Dubuque Theological Seminary sponsored a chapel service with a focus on the issues related to the Middle East. Every Wednesday an educational forum educated the campus community on the issues and concerns related to the conflict. Also, a publication listing the names of loved ones directly involved in the war, and concerns on their behalf, was produced.

In support of the troops fighting in the Middle East, the Campus Ministry placed this yellow ribbon around the bell tower.

Ron Steele, news anchor for KWWL-TV, Waterloo, Iowa, spoke to students on "Censorship and the Gulf War" Wednesday, March 6, 1991. Steele spoke at 11:30 a.m. in Alumni Hall as part of the University's ongoing Persian Gulf Forum series. A question and answer session followed each forum. Steele's talk at the University of Dubuque was free and open to the public.

This dormitory window displays a sense of love and support for the U.S. and the troops. SGA was responsible for handing out these flags to members of the campus.

Dr. Agria Becomes New President

In January 1990 Dr. Walter Peterson, president of the University of Dubuque, announced his intention to retire as soon as a new president was appointed. On August 2, 1990 William Kruse, chairman of the University of Dubuque Board of Directors, announced the appointment of Dr. John Agria as the new president of the University.

Agria has commented, "I am extremely pleased to have been named president of the University of Dubuque. I was drawn to the university by the high quality of the programs and the warmth of the people. I look forward to building on the very strong foundation which is in place on the campus."

Dr. Agria, 52, previously was vice president for academic services at Thiel College, Greenville, PA. Prior to his tenure at Thiel College, Dr. Agria was a professor of political science, and later, dean of academic affairs at Alma College, Alma, Michigan. He was also dean of academic affairs at Long Island University, Southampton, New York.

John Agria received his undergraduate degree in political science at Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Michigan. He earned a master's degree in constitutional law, and a Ph.D. in political philosophy, public administration, and international relations from the University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois.

John and Mary Agria arrived in Dubuque in mid-August. The Agria's have four daughters. Mary Agria is a writer and has been involved in community economic development in Greenville.

Dr. Agria officially became the 17th president of the university during week long activities April 4-11, 1991. A few activities were the formal inauguration ceremony at Westminster Presbyterian Church, a reception at Blades Hall followed the ceremony, and a dinner-dance was held in the Stoltz Sports Center for all students, faculty, and staff.

We welcome Dr. Agria to the University of Dubuque.

University of Dubuque presents "Godspell"

Based on a book by John-Michael Telbelak, "Godspell" was first shown in New York's Cherry Lane Theatre in May 1971. Now 20 years later the University of Dubuque Music Department once again brings it to a Dubuque stage.

University of Dubuque students cast for the musical include (in alphabetical order): Carl Bengé, Ron Brock, Karen Burrell, Kate Hickok, Celina Malloy, Mike McMahon, Jeff Olsen, Juliette Rigdon, Christa Wright, and Dale Youngs. The production staff that helped to make "Godspell" a success is: Carole Ryan Sullivan (Stage director), Dennis Williams (Music director and producer), Jan Lavecek (Set and lighting designer and technical director), Linda Hansen (Choreographer), Nancy Wright (Costume coordinator), Dawn Putney (Props coordinator), Drue Robertson (Lighting technician), Vicky Brittan (Student director) and John Martinson (Metal Sculpture). The Godspell Band consisted of Geraldene Corliss on the Piano, Dick Potter on the guitar, Carolyn Clover on the Bass, and Monone Susevich on drums.

First time event draws a good crowd. UD promotes health

Area organizations joined together to assist the University in providing a first-ever campus Health Fair.

The fair included activity and information booths promoting a healthy lifestyle and numerous stage events open to UD students, faculty, staff and their families. Booths included a heart risk evaluation by Mercy Hospital; nutrition/colo-rectal screening by The Finley Hospital; blood testing by United Clinical Laboratories; AIDS information by the AIDS Coalition; blood pressure screening by UD nursing students; healthy snacks by UD Food Service; body fat and fitness screening by UD athletic trainers; wellness book display by UD library; cancer information by the Dubuque Cancer Society and traffic safety by IDOT and Dubuque Sheriff's Department. Stage events included demonstrations by Body Talk, Japanese fencing and Tang Soo Do by UD international students, Indian dancing by UD students, and music by UD Choir and Collegiate Singers.

Youth and Inexperience Takes It's Toll on Dubuque Spartan Football

A coach once said that the only good thing about freshmen is that one year they will be juniors and seniors. First-year University of Dubuque football coach Mike Messer can relate to those words of wisdom as he watched his young football squad bravely battle in the tough Iowa Conference to post a 2-7 record in 1990. "Winning two games and finishing seventh in the nine-team conference (2-6 record) is a credit to the young players who had to play right away this season," Messer said. "We started eight freshmen and the experience they gained will benefit us in the long run." Dubuque's two victories included a 24-20 Homecoming win over Buena Vista and 28-12 win over William Penn in the last game of the season. The season-ending victory snapped a four-game losing streak that followed an injury to starting junior quarterback Chris Hyland. In that last game against William Penn, backup sophomore quarterback Mike Crenshaw ran for three touchdowns - including a 65-yarder - and passed for another score in leading the Spartans to victory. No Spartan player received conference honors this year.

Gerald Huntley, a senior from Shelby, North Carolina, is wide-eyed and ready to receive the pass in flight.

With 19 freshmen, 11 sophomores, eight juniors and just seven seniors on the 45-member Spartan squad, Coach Mike Messer looked to the future in the initial year of building a program. With just one winning season in the last eight years, the Spartans hope to turn things around on the strength of a strong freshmen class that jumped right into the fire in 1990.

Dubuque's most valuable offensive weapon was junior punter Gregg Scharnau of Dubuque, finishing second in the Iowa Conference in punting with a 36.6 yard average.

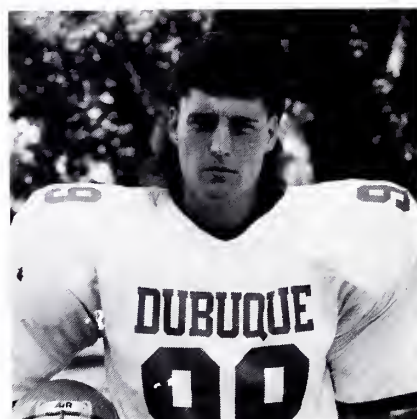

Junior quarterback Chris Hyland rolls out and gets the offense flowing. Hyland rushed for 209 yards on the year.

After a crushing blow to a Luther receiver, sophomore defensive back Chris Streets takes him down for an unassisted tackle.

A familiar sight before the start of every home game, senior Ken Baker and the rest of the Spartans march onto the field with the flag cast into the air. The yellow dot was a sign of secrecy amongst the players and coaches as they set team goals and attitudes high and positive. This sort of stampede always got the team and fans pumped.

Robert Feight, a sophomore defensive end from Waco, Texas, was voted most valuable player for the 1990 season.

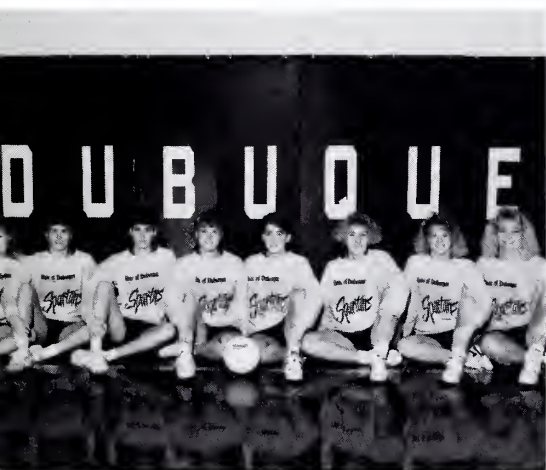

Volleyball season ends with 5-32 record

Vicki Moore named All-Conference

On Sept. 21, 1990, the University of Dubuque volleyball squad had just put together a three-game winning streak to up its record to 5-7 overall and 1-2 in Iowa Conference play. Little did anyone know that it would be the last win of the season for the Spartan women as they closed the 1990 schedule with 25 consecutive match losses. Head Coach Lori Anda saw her squad finish eighth in the nine-team Iowa Conference during the regular season with a 1-7 record, identical to their 1989 league mark. The Spartans failed to win a match at the season-ending conference tournament but look to rebound in 1991 with the return of four starter, including second team All-Iowa Conference player Vickie Moore.

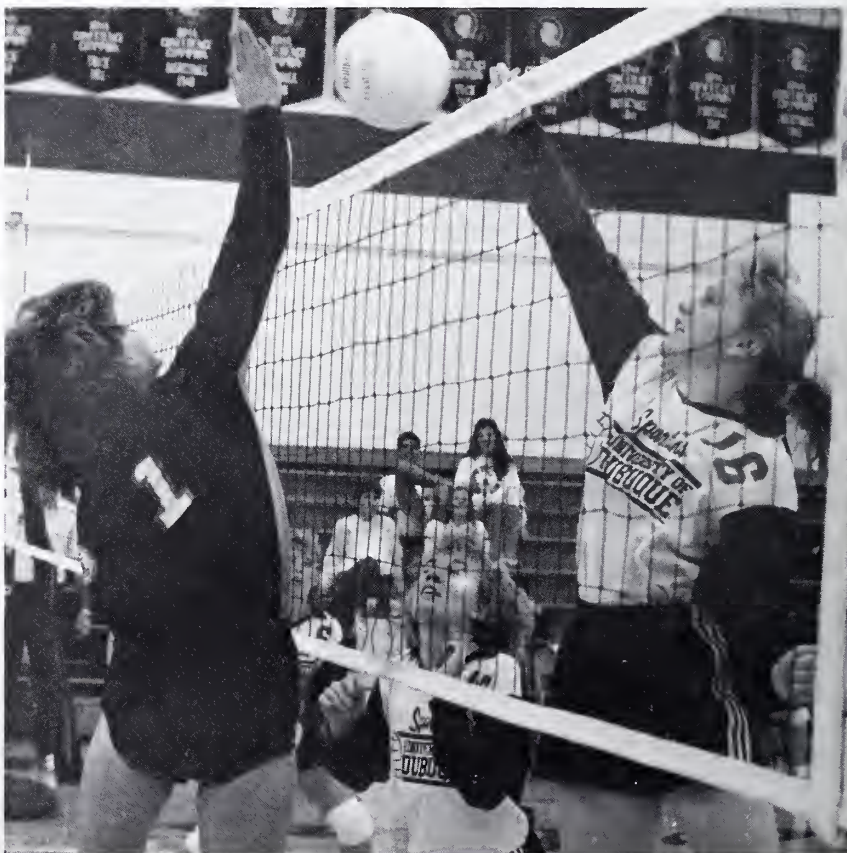

Moore, a junior setter from Washington, Iowa, led the team in sets, dinks and serving aces and finished second in blocks. She played in all 101 games for Dubuque and for the second straight year was also named to the UW-Oshkosh All-Tournament team. Also returning next season will be Mary Jo Nowachek and Karen Preuss. Three graduating seniors will need to be replaced next year. Starters Luanna Kirsh, Sandie Clasen and top reserve Margie Preston will be lost to graduation.

Junior Vickie Moore attempts one of her team-high 2,728 sets. The Washington, Iowa, native earned second team All-Iowa Conference honors.

Lori Johanningermeier (left) and Sandie Clasen reach high for a block. The duo finished first and fifth respectively on the team in that category.

Personal View

The feeling that someone experiences when they run a cross-country race is something that is difficult to understand. Freshman Rod Thurow, though, stated it this way, "At the beginning of my first race, I was extremely nervous. My stomach ached, and my hands were shaking. As the race continued, I felt more at ease, and I was elated when I crossed the finish line. There aren't many feelings in the world that compare to finishing a five mile race. Cross-country is worthwhile for me because I achieve inner strength every time I complete a race."

Young Spartans

The UD Cross-Country Team finished 1990 with a disappointing season caused by an inexperienced team lacking of seniors. However, Coach Ben Ray was pleased with the progress of his young runners throughout the season. The runners improved and gained valuable experience for next year. This year's team was led by juniors Mike McMahon and Erich Hoffmeier. The team also included junior Bob Carlson, sophomore Jason Chapman, and freshmen Andy Ferguson and Rod Thurow. The girls' team consisted of senior Julie Rubel and junior Dawn Abernathy.

ing line to prepare for the big race. With few seniors on this year's team, Head Coach Ben Ray can look forward to an experienced cross-country team in the 1991 season.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The 1990 Spartan Women's Tennis Team took a giant step forward with a 4 and 6 season. A major addition to our team this year was Freshmen Carmen Tweed who played No. 2 most of the season. Returning letter winners, Tonia Ricke, Eileen Sy, Sally Nishioka and Shiho Knoashi made great strides and strengthened the middle of the team. Two new students, Charo (Rosario) Zubiaga and Bessie Kebaara rounded out the top seven. Coach Pasko is looking forward to six returning starters and a couple new recruits to launch our Spartan Women into the middle of the conference competition for 1991. The women would like to give special thanks to the Frank Farbers for our new outdoor courts. A total of six new courts are planned and will make a major difference for future tennis teams.

Spartans finish with 17-9 record

Dubuque men break Iowa Conference and school scoring records, average 101.7 points per game.

The 1990-91 University of Dubuque men's basketball team will go down as the most prolific scoring outfit in school and Iowa Conference history after shattering numerous offensive records. The Spartans concluded a second-place finish in the league standings by averaging 101.7 points a game overall and 97.4 in league play. Both averages eclipsed records that have stood for over 30 years.

Behind the play of five seniors, Dubuque finished second in the nation in scoring while breaking 16 school records, including most points in one game in a 138-72 win over Mt. St. Clare in the Dan Donovan Tourna-

Seniors Dave Crawford, Damon Rogers and Rufus Bennett all figured in the record-breaking year. Crawford earned his second straight Conference Player of the Year Award and finishes his career ranked second on the school's scoring and rebounding charts. Rogers became the school's all-time three-point shooter while Bennett, along with Rogers, played in a school-record 108 career games, never missing a game during their four-year college careers.

Senior Dave Crawford goes up for two of his 1,868 career points. Following the season he had his jersey retired.

Senior Sandie Clasen pushes the ball upcourt past her opponent. The Bellevue, Iowa, native averaged 6.5 points and 3.5 rebounds a game.

Junior guard Vickie Moore saves a ball from going out-of-bounds. Moore led the team in scoring with a 15.5 average, including 12 three-point goals.

Struggling with low numbers that were further depleted by injuries, the University of Dubuque women's basketball team closed out a winless 1990-91 season. The Spartans, under first-year Head Coach Lori Anda failed to win a game in 25 outings and finished the Iowa Conference season with a 0-16 mark. The 25 losses were the most in school history and the team is currently riding a 34-game losing streak.

Dubuque gave up an Iowa Conference record 1,324 points (82.8 average) this past season. Individually Vickie Moore finished ninth in the league in scoring and Regina Hanrahan seventh in rebounding. The Spartans will return four starters next year for new Head Coach Jay Schiesl, who replaces the interim coach Anda.

Tiny in size, mighty in pride.

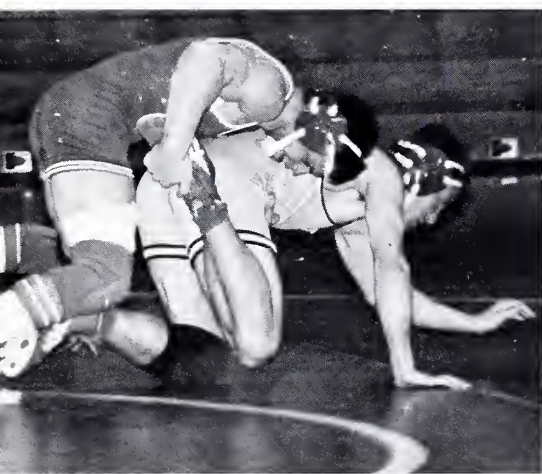

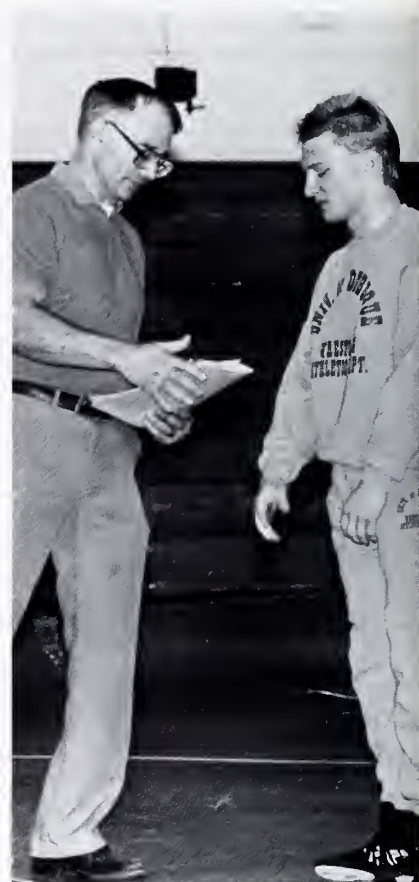

U of Dubuque Wrestling

The University of Dubuque wrestling team had a tough season this year. They finished the season in eighth place at the conference tournament with 27 and one-half points. Simpson won the Championship with 117 and three-fourth points while Central was second with 106 and one-half and Buena Vista third with 105 and one-half. Rounding out the scoring was Wartburg fourth with 94 points, Loras fifth with 76 and one-fourth, Upper Iowa sixth with 56 and one-half, Luther seventh with 53 and one-fourth, Dubuque eighth and William Penn ninth with three points.

Troy Armstrong qualified for his second straight appearance to the NCAA Division III Wrestling Championships at Augustana College. Troy was beat out in the first round, but he put forth a great effort. Last year Armstrong placed seventh at the National Tournament, earning All-American honors. Troy will be missed at the UD wrestling program, but the next years look promising for the returning squad.

Coach Tom Eitter gives Troy Armstrong an award for his new school record of 107 victories against 56 losses and five ties.

Sam Grulke works hard to beat his opponent. Sam finished sixth at 150 pounds and ended the year with a 15-24 record.

Sam Grulke gets ready to start his match as the ref begins to blow the whistle. Sam will return with two years left.

Jason Fruitiger begins his match by going in for a takedown. Jason will also be an assit to next year's team.

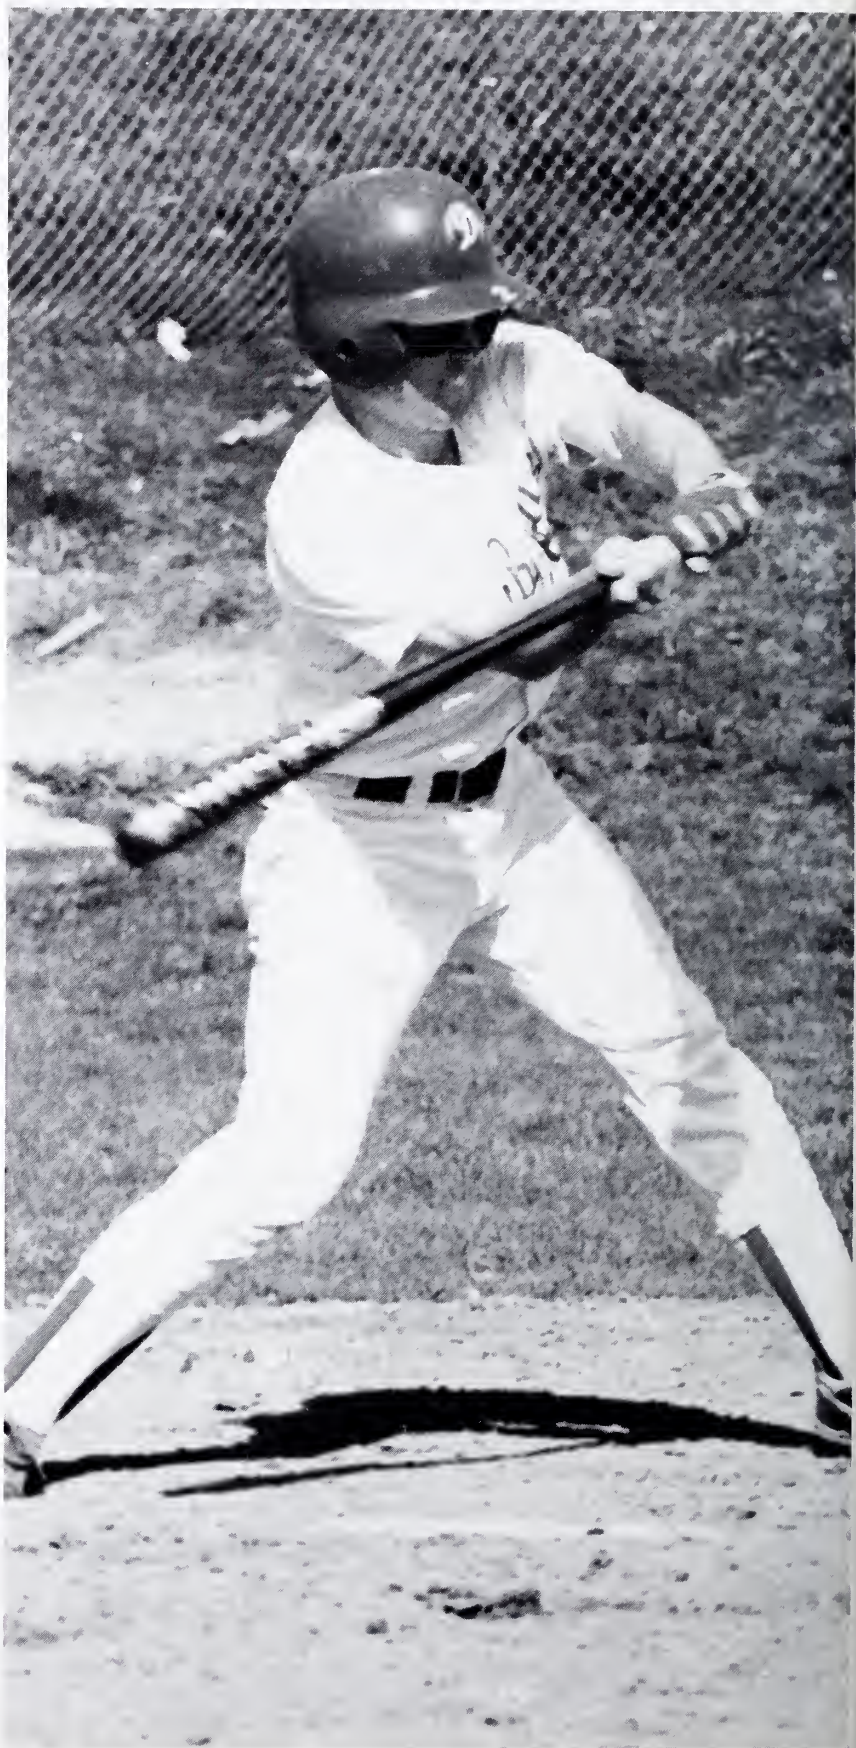

Troy Armstrong goes in and works hard for a pin. Troy finished the season with 38 wins, eight losses and two ties.

Senior catcher Dan Clasen takes a healthy cut at a pitch. The two-year starter drove in 17 runs and scored 15 in his final collegiate season.

Dave McLaughlin is a study of concentration at the plate. The Maquoketa, Iowa, native hit .328 while playing shortstop and pitching for the Spartans.

Senior Gerard Huntley raps one of his team-high 39 hits. The right fielder hit .348 while leading the team in hits, at bats and triples.

Third baseman Tim Wagner crosses the plate after one of his season's 13 runs. The freshman led the team in hitting with a .360 average.

Jeff Rapp eyes the pitcher as he waits for a pitch. Rapp hit .313 with a team-high three home runs and 22 runs-batted-in.

In 1991 the University of Dubuque baseball team more than tripled its victory total from a year ago by finishing with a 15-16 overall record, 5-9 in Iowa Conference play. The Spartans goal of a winning season was dashed when their last six games of the season were rained out. Dubuque also lost eight games by two runs or less, including four one-run heartbreakers.

Dubuque hit .277 as a team with squad Most Valuable Player Gerard Huntley leading the way. Senior Rufus Bennett hit .308 and closed out his college career by becoming the school record holder in hits (122), triples (11) and stolen bases (53). He finished his career with an outstanding .337 lifetime batting average, third best in school history. Setting a freshman record with 10 doubles was Tim Wagner.

The UD team looks forward to next year.

1991 Softball Team!

The University of Dubuque Spartans had a tough season. They finished the season with a 7-24 record. But the team did show improvement and a big effort was put forth. The team finished eighth in the conference ahead of Loras.

The team consisted of 14 players: Vickie Moore, Jayne Oglesby, Tonia Ricke, Lori Johanningmeier, Tammy Budde, Mary Jo Nowachek, Gina Nuzzo, Darlene House, Bessy Kebeara, Karen Preuss, Kristy Preuss, Joyce Chin, Angela Ndubi, and Sue Nicholas.

Jayne Oglesby was the only fourth year senior and her talents are really going to be missed. Jayne was nominated to 2nd team all-conference and she also received most doubles in conference with 5. She also had a .308 batting average which won her the BIG BAT award. Jayne has had the center field position and did very well here.

Next year's team is looking good as 11 people return!

Jayne Oglesby winds up to crack the ball. She led the team in hitting and also in field percentage for the outfielders.

Vickie Moore chuckles as she just misses the tag on second. Her two career records are AT BATS and HITS.

Tonia Ricke waits for the pitch as it comes in. She was the team's catcher and she received the GOOD GLOVE award.

Tammy Budde, (second base) and Mary Jo (first base) wait for the hit so they can make the play at first.

Kristy Preuss smiles as she throws the ball to first. Kristy played in the outfield and finished at third base Tammy warms up as she practices her throw. This was Tammy's first year out and she did very well. She was a 1st year senior.

Lori Jo winds up for the pitch. She was the only pitcher and she pitched all of the games. She was the MVP for 1991.

Scott Feuerbach grimaces as he prepares to throw the shot put. The Bellevue, Iowa, native had a season best throw of 44 feet, 11 and one-half inches.

Joe Kerr combined with Scott Feuerbach and Ed Foster to form a triple threat in the shot put this season for the Spartan men's track team.

Scott Feuerbach was the lone placewinner for Dubuque at the season-ending Iowa Conference Track Championships. He finished fourth in the shot put.

Dubuque's Stacie Richardson (second from right) explodes out of the blocks in the 50-meter dash at the Loras Invitational. Richardson, Rod Thurow, Jason Piercy and Matt Sheriff all competed in running events for the Spartan track team this season. Dubuque ended the season by placing in one event and scoring five points at the season-ending Iowa Conference Championships.

Small men's squad scores five points at Iowa Conference Meet

UD track team battles low numbers

The University of Dubuque track team was short in numbers as just a handful of men competed and the school did not field a women's squad. Dubuque's lone placewinner at the Iowa Conference meet was shot putter Scott Feuerbach who finished fourth. Feuerbach was in his first season and is looking forward to battling for the league title in the shot put in the years to come.

One individual track record fell

as Roger Meyers broke the school mark in the indoor long jump with a leap of 21 feet, 5 inches at the UW-Platteville Invitational. That broke the old record of 21 feet, 2 and one-half inches set by Kevin Goreth in 1987.

Also competing on a regular basis for the UD track team was Ed Foster, a two-year letterman who participated in the field events for Head Coach Mike Messer. Messer was assisted by Coach Phil Busby during the indoor and outdoor track season.

Dubuque's Roger Meyers takes off from the jumping board in long jump competition during the season. Meyers broke the indoor long jump record with a best of 21 feet, 5 inches at the UW-Platteville Invitational February 9, 1991. That broke the old standard of 21 feet, 2 and one-half inches, which had stood for four years.

Ed Foster gives it his all as he makes an attempt in the javelin throw competition. Foster competed in a number of events for the Spartans during the 1991 season.

Men's tennis team posts 4-5 record

The 1991 University of Dubuque men's tennis team had one of its best seasons in a number of years following a 4-5 dual meet campaign. 11 players competed for Head Coach Kurt Pasko during the season, including seven international students. The Spartans had a chance for a winning dual meet season but were edged by Upper Iowa University in the last meet of the season by a narrow 5-4 score. Dubuque closed out the season by winning six matches at the Iowa Conference Tournament but could manage just two points. Scoring the points was the doubles team of Hiroyuki Fujimaki and Bob Carlson who won two of four matches.

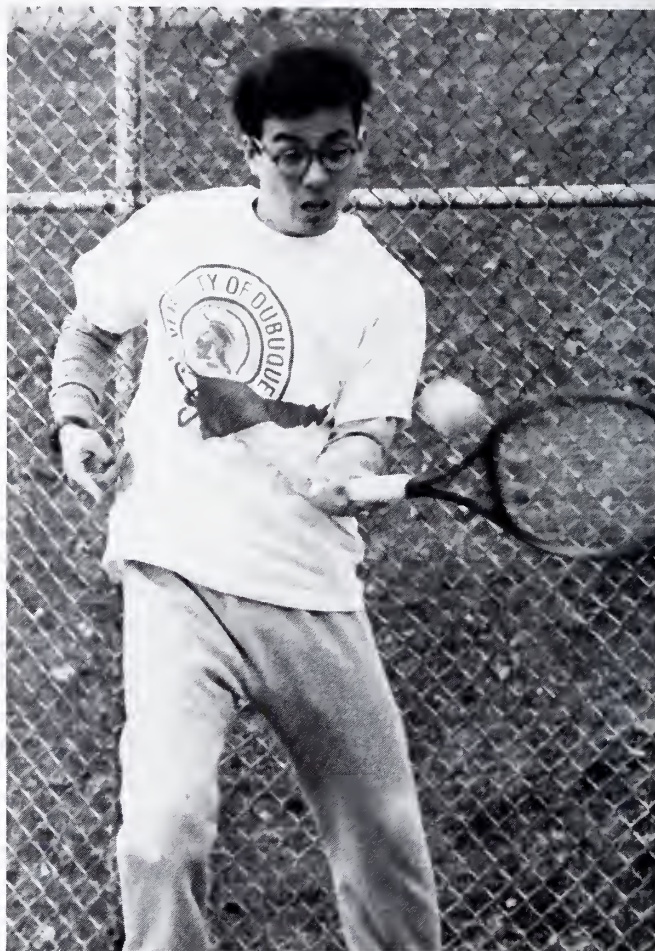

Fujimaki was the number one singles and doubles player for Dubuque, winning team Most Valuable Player honors following the conclusion of the season. Fujimaki accumulated a 5-12 record in doubles competition.

Playing the number two singles position for UD was Mark Williams. He posted a team-high 7-8 record in singles and 9-9 mark in doubles.

Rounding out the regular lineup were Bob Carlson, Hiro Iida, Jason Piercy, David Kline and Albert Lim. Carlson was 7-12 in singles action and 5-14 in doubles. Iida finished 3-14 and 9-10; Piercy 2-5 and 3-4; Kline 2-10 and 0-8 and Lim 1-11 and 0-7.

Also competing during the year were Yukitaka Yoshikawa, Jack Jung and Weng Young Chen.

Hiro Iida returns a shot in a match at Flora Park. Iida won a team-high nine matches in doubles competition.

Dubuque's number-one singles player, Hiroyuki Fujimaki, reaches for a shot. Fujimaki was team Most Valuable Player.

Mark Williams serves the ball up to his opponent. Williams won a team-high 16 matches in singles and doubles.

Bob Carlson is shown in singles action at Flora Park. The Manchester, Iowa, native ended the season with a 7-12 record in singles play. As a team the Spartans won four of nine dual meets during the 1991 season. Dubuque's squad had an international flavor as seven of the players were international students. Leading the squad once again this season was Head Coach Kurt Pasko, the chaplain of the college.

Alumni Athletic Hall of Fame inducts 7

The University of Dubuque Alumni Athletic Hall of Fame inducted its second class with the honoring of seven former Spartan greats on Sept. 22, 1991. The Class of 1990 included Clarence (Pete) Peterson, William Miller, Carol Mundhenke-Gibbs, Robert Schiers, Ivan Livingston, Scott Berry and Bryan Dunn. They joined the 13 charter members inducted in 1989 into the Hall of Fame, located in the First National Bank Lobby of McCormick Gymnasium.

Peterson was inducted in the Outstanding Contributor category after serving the university for over 50 years as professor of education, coach and head of the athletic department. He coached nearly every sport, leading the school to its first basketball championship in 1921, conference titles in track in 1944 and '45 and league championships in tennis three straight seasons from 1959-61. Representing athletes from the era 1940 and before were Mundhenke-Gibbs and Miller. Mundhenke-Gibbs participated in tennis, basketball, track and gymnastics and is the first woman elected to the Hall. Miller was a four-year letterwinner in football, basketball and track. Representing the 1940s was Robert Schiers, also a four-year letterwinner in three sports, earned All-Conference honors in football quarterbacking Dubuque to a perfect 7-0 record in 1940.

Livingston won 11 Iowa Conference titles in track, including the 100 and 220-yard dash champion from 1952-54.

Berry was a two-time conference track champion in the shot put and All-Conference fullback in football. Dunn was a three-time All-Iowa Conference player in basketball.

Members of the 1991 Alumni Athletic Hall of Fame are introduced at halftime of the Hall of Fame Football game.

University of Dubuque ROTC unit de-activated ROTC bids farewell

Cadet David Turner receives a military award from ROTC commander Major Ayers in an annual fall semester recognition ceremony.

Members of the University of Dubuque Reserve Officers Training Corps bid a ceremonial farewell to its program following the conclusion of the 1990-91 academic year. Dubuque's program — which accepted students from Loras and Clarke Colleges — along with UW-Platteville's were eliminated due to military cut-backs. Official de-activation ceremonies took place May 3, 1991, in Alumni Hall. The colors of the University of Dubuque's ROTC program were officially retired at the year-end event. Past students and ROTC's contributions to university life were remembered.

All students who completed the ROTC program were commissioned as second lieutenants. Rodney Koeller, James Riddick and David Turner participated in final commissioning ceremonies in 1991. Six additional students are scheduled to be commissioned in 1992.

The University of Dubuque ROTC program learned in the summer of 1991 that its program would be eliminated. UD's program was among the nation's 50 smallest ROTC programs.

The first class of University of Dubuque ROTC cadets commissioned was in 1981. Former cadets now serve on active and reserve duty in such military branches as engineers, aviation, air defense, medical services, field artillery, infantry, transportation, signal corps, intelligence, armor, adjutant general, chemical corps, quartermaster and Army nurse corps.

The University of Dubuque colors are officially retired and cased in plastic at de-activation ceremonies Friday, May 3, 1991, in Alumni Hall. UD's ROTC program consisted of students from the Tri-Colleges.

Approximately 170 students participated in spring graduation ceremonies for the University of Dubuque College of Liberal Arts. Graduation ceremonies included annual baccalaureate services and the Senior Banquet. Addressing the students at both the banquet and graduation ceremony was new University of Dubuque President John Agria. Delivering the charge to students at graduation was vice president and academic dean Frank van Aalst.

On a warm, sunny Sunday afternoon, students received diplomas in the Stoltz Sports Center and enjoyed a reception on the Quad following the ceremony.

This was the 177th convocation for the conferring of degrees at the University of Dubuque. Special honors at the graduation went to William Gould, named professor emeritus following his retirement, and William Wellner and Frank Fillwalk, honored with Teacher Excellence Awards. Other awards went to Frank Belcastro, honored as Teacher of the Year, and Julie Rubel, Student of the Year. Rubel and Galvin Coimbre were senior speakers at the banquet.
